Call for Papers

Special Issue on Recent Advances and Future Directions in Biomechanics

(JBSE: AP Biomech 2021)

Publishing Journal: Journal of Biomechanical Science and Engineering (JBSE)

Website: <http://www.jbse.org/>

Special Issue Co-editors:

Toshiro Ohashi, Hokkaido University, Japan

Taiji Adachi, Kyoto University, Japan

Kennedy O Okeyo, Kyoto University, Japan

Aims and Scope:

The 11th Asian-Pacific Conference on Biomechanics will be held on-line (partly hybrid) from December 2nd to 5th, 2021, hosted by Kyoto University, Japan. To commemorate this exciting conference as well as to enhance researches in the field of biomechanics, a special issue of the JBSE, namely, "Special Issue on Recent Advances and Future Directions in Biomechanics" will be issued. It will present a great opportunity to publish your research.

The special issue invites papers from a wide range of topics in biomechanical engineering and related scientific fields. All submitted papers will be subjected to the same peer-review process as those accepted for publication in the regular issues.

Important Dates:

- ✚ Deadline for submission of provisional title and author list: 31st December, 2021
- ✚ Deadline for submission of manuscript for review: 31st January, 2022
- ✚ Expected publication date: July, 2022

Guideline for Provisional Paper Submission:

Provisional title and author list of your paper must be sent to one of the three editors by e-mail before 31st December, 2021.
